Here’s just some of what you’ll learn:
• Think through precisely what you mean to say.
• Gain the reader’s attention on page one.
• Make the structure of your writing clear.
• Avoid common distractions in your prose.
• Write and speak with greater confidence.

We’re coming to you this fall:
Nashville  Oct. 16  •  Atlanta  Oct. 20  •  Salt Lake City  Oct. 27
Seattle  Oct. 29  •  Columbus  Nov. 4  •  Cleveland  Nov. 16
San Francisco  Nov. 19  •  Los Angeles  Dec. 1
New Orleans  Dec. 4  •  New York  Dec. 10
Washington  Dec. 14

To enroll:
visit us at www.lawprose.org; use the registration form inside; or call us at 214-691-8588.

To Partners
Spending hours every night fixing your associates’ writing? Want to get them trained to produce cleaner, stronger work in short order? Would you like to stop having to rewrite from scratch everything that comes across your desk? Send your associates to us.

To Associates
Crunched to get a motion done? Worried about whether your partner will like your work? Fretting about billable hours and project fees versus quality of work? We’ll show you how to become more productive and effective.
Advanced Legal Writing & Editing

This is the most popular CLE seminar of all time. More than 160,000 lawyers, judges, law clerks, paralegals, and others have attended since the course was first offered. Professor Garner recently gave the coursebook a complete revising.

Garner gives you the keys for professional writing. He teaches no-nonsense ways to make your letters, memos, and briefs more powerful.

His dynamic teaching style highlights dozens of techniques that can make all the difference.

Above all, Garner shows you what doesn’t work and why—that’s know-how gleaned from two decades of training lawyers at the country’s top law firms, at state and national courts and government agencies, and at Fortune 500 companies. He’ll teach you how to shake those bad habits that your readers universally detest.

The Redbook Seminar

Every law office needs expertise—true expertise—on producing first-rate documents. You have that, you say? Likely not: a professional editor can hardly read two sentences of law-office material without making obligatory edits, not just discretionary ones. Errors abound, often costly ones.

As professional writers, lawyers ought to be able to produce documents with the same polish as the better publishing houses. And who best to teach you? Garner was recently named Legal Reference Book Author of the Decade and has been editor in chief of Black’s Law Dictionary over the past four unabridged editions. His teaching style is every bit as honed as his writing style.

Making Your Case

Your text is the hardcover best-seller Making Your Case: The Art of Persuading Judges, in which Justice Antonin Scalia and Professor Garner freshly explain every important principle of persuasion—from keen legal reasoning to polished brief-writing to effective oral argument.

Garner’s presentation, interspersed with video clips of his coauthor and other judges, brings the book a bold vividness that will help you retain and apply the time-honored principles of effective advocacy that win in court.

Get answers to all your questions about writing motions and briefs, including:

- I want a collaborative team—but how can I reduce the editorial conflicts?
- Is it really possible to deliver constructive criticism without provoking anger and resentment?
- What are the most useful assignments for juniors in the lead-up to writing a brief?
- What kinds of office protocols can ensure that we always turn out first-rate work product?
- What kinds of law-school teaching need to be unlearned?
- What is the best way of having team members learn from each experience of filing a brief?
- How can we manage the writing process to minimize last-minute rushing?
- How can we get all our writers pursuing the same ends—approaching editing as a team effort?
Praise for Bryan Garner’s Training

Ted Olson, former Solicitor General of the United States and a partner at Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, says:

“Bryan Garner’s seminars are the most valuable things I know of to help a lawyer communicate effectively. Lawyers who strive to be effective never stop learning. I’d go again and again and again.”

Bradley J. Butwin, managing partner at O’Melveny & Myers, says:

“Lawyers are bombarded by seminars. But this one I rate at the top. We get our investment back in spades.”

The Los Angeles Daily Journal says:

“No matter how little or how much time you spend with Garner, it is time well spent.”

America’s Top Firms Can’t Be Wrong

A superlative learning opportunity awaits you at every LawProse seminar: a top-notch trainer (Professor Bryan A. Garner), comprehensive coursebooks, and our guarantee of satisfaction. That’s why all the 250 largest firms have chosen us to train their lawyers.

You should too. When you need skills training—and who doesn’t?—you should learn from the best.

LawProse supports you continually. We don’t just stand behind our CLEs. We stand behind you. If you attend one of our seminars and are later faced with a legal-writing issue that puzzles you, contact us: describe your problem and we’ll promptly respond.

What other CLE provider makes that pledge? Only LawProse.

Register Online Today at www.lawprose.org or send this form and your check made out to LawProse Inc.

Name ________________________________ ________________________________
Firm ________________________________ ________________________________
Address ________________________________ ________________________________
Daytime phone ________________________________ ________________________________
E-mail ________________________________ ________________________________
Secondary e-mail ________________________________ ________________________________

LawProse® 14180 Dallas Parkway, Suite 280, Dallas, TX 75254 • Phone (214) 691-8588 • Fax (214) 691-9294

Seminar Information

Nashville FRIDAY, OCTOBER 16
Hilton Nashville Downtown; 121 Fourth Avenue S; Nashville, TN 37201; 615-620-1000

Atlanta TUESDAY, OCTOBER 20
W Atlanta Midtown; 188 14th Street NE; Atlanta, GA 30361; 404-724-2553

Salt Lake City TUESDAY, OCTOBER 27
Hilton Salt Lake City, 255 South West Temple; Salt Lake City, UT 84101; 801-328-2000

Seattle THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29
Hyatt at Olive 8 Seattle; 1635 8th Avenue; Seattle, WA 98101; 206-695-1234

Columbus WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4
Renaissance Columbus Downtown; 30 N. 3rd Street; Columbus, OH 43215; 614-228-5050

Cleveland MONDAY, NOVEMBER 16
The Ritz-Carlton; 1515 W. 3rd Street; Cleveland, OH 44113; 216-623-1300

San Francisco THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19
Westin St. Francis; 335 Powell Street; San Francisco, CA 94102; 415-997-7000

Los Angeles TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1
Millennium Biltmore; 506 S. Grand Avenue; Los Angeles, CA 90071; 213-624-1011

New Orleans FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4
Le Meridien; 333 Poydras Street; New Orleans, LA 70130; 504-524-9444

New York THURSDAY, DECEMBER 10
Park Lane Hotel; 36 Central Park South; New York, NY 10019; 212-371-4000

Washington MONDAY, DECEMBER 14
W Washington DC; 515 15th Street NW; Washington, DC 20004; 202-661-2400

TUITION is payable by check or online with a credit card before the day of the class. Registration at the door is an extra $15 per seminar. Limited need-based financial aid is available; for information see our website.

CLE CREDIT has been applied for in states where seminars are held. Out-of-state attorneys should contact their state bar and apply for credit directly. You’ll receive an official certificate of attendance at the seminar.

TRANSFER of your registration to another location on this brochure, or to another member of your firm or company, will be approved with 24 hours’ notice before the seminar date. Cancellation with refund (less a $50 enrollment charge) will be approved with 7 days’ notice before the original seminar date. No refund will be made for late cancellation or absence.

MISC. Refreshments will be available during morning and afternoon breaks. Room temperatures vary, so please bring a sweater or jacket.
Bryan A. Garner Seminars

Persuasive Writing

- Advanced Legal Writing & Editing
  9:00 a.m.–noon
- The Redbook Seminar
  1:00–2:30 p.m.
- Making Your Case
  3:00–4:30 p.m.

America’s #1 Legal-Writing Seminar

Advanced Legal Writing & Editing

PLUS

The Redbook Seminar
Using a Manual on Legal Style

Making Your Case
The Art of Persuading Judges

We’re coming to you this fall:

Nashville Oct. 16 • Atlanta Oct. 20 • Salt Lake City Oct. 27
Seattle Oct. 29 • Columbus Nov. 4
Cleveland Nov. 16 • San Francisco Nov. 19
Los Angeles Dec. 1 • New Orleans Dec. 4
New York Dec. 10 • Washington Dec. 14

America’s top law firms can’t be wrong.
See inside for details!

www.lawprose.org